

V-LIBRARY

Goal

To make learning of traditional treatises more simple, attractive and objective.

Context

Sanskrit has a comprehensive and unique heritage of teaching learning. Verbal testimony is treated as the most significant treasure for the humanity. The objective of the programme is to make the learning of classical Sanskrit literature more simple and attractive by using the possibilities of ICT.

V LIBRARY is a collection of visual and vocal (audio) form of classical Sanskrit literature. VCDs, DVDs and CDs of ancient Sanskrit literature, Chanting of scriptures, stotras, visual mode of dramas of Kalidasa, Bhasa etc are a part of it. A few short films and movies are also included in this library. There are about 75 CDs are available in our library.

Evidence of success

The V LIBRARY become a unique experience for the students and faculties. There is huge demand for the access to this programme from students.

Problems encountered and resources required

Collection of CDs and DVDS of various kinds was the biggest task.

Wider publicity is required to make a archive of VCDs DVDs and CDs related to Sanskrit classical literature.
